

Research Vocabularies Australia Service Schedule

1 Background

Research Vocabularies Australia (RVA) is a vocabulary service operated by the Australian Research Data Commons (ARDC). RVA is an easily accessible service for creating, managing, finding and accessing controlled vocabularies, which make the meaning of research data clear and explicit. Some vocabularies are hosted by the Australian Research Data Commons (ARDC) and can be accessed directly through Research Vocabularies Australia. Otherwise Research Vocabularies Australia provides a link to the vocabulary owner's web page. Research Vocabularies Australia also allows you to create and/or publish a vocabulary as well as integrate an existing vocabulary into your own system. Research Vocabularies Australia caters for researchers and those who support, describe and discover research, including vocabulary managers, ontologists, data managers and librarians.

Organisations wishing to contribute to the RVA service are required to sign the Service Schedule Agreement below in order to access the service.
